My Dear Lord Mayor:

This is to confirm the arrangement made with Mr Taylor that, acting in my capacity as Director of the City of Sydney Strategic Planning process, I will be bringing Professor Alan Proudlove to call on you at 12.15 pm on Friday, August 28. Alan Proudlove is Professor of Transportation Studies at the University of Liverpool and is one of our specialist advisers on the Strategic Plan for the city. Professor Proudlove will have been working with us and with Council officers and servants for a period of a month prior to his departure on Sunday, August 30. We will be reporting to you on Friday, August 28 on the progress of our work in the evolution of a strategy for future movement systems within the City of Sydney.

We understand that your Secretary will be inviting the Civic Roundsmen of the four Sydney Dailies and the ABC News to be present at this meeting. We are asking our Public Information specialist, Mr Peter Knox of W.D. Scott and Co. Pty Ltd, to invite representatives of other publications and media. Mr Knox will also be assisting Professor Proudlove and me to draft statements which can be suitable for distribution to the media at the meeting. We have also undertaken to prepare for your consideration a draft of a statement that we hope you might make. Copies of these statements will be sent to you a day or two beforehand.

We understand that the Vice Chairman of the City Development Committee and Council's representative on the SPA will also be present and will participate in the discussions. The representatives
