"The schools will still play two-day cricket fixtures but with no premiership at stake."

Mr. McConnel said the schools were sorry to end competition matches.

The decision was unanimous.

The president of the Combined GPS Old Boys' Union Council (J. Somerville) said last night many Old Boys would be sorry that competition cricket was ending.

"However, the decision was a matter for GPS headmasters and was based on practical considerations," he said.

DEVELOPERS ATTACK COVE COMPROMISE

By the Civic Roundsman

A group of Sydney's biggest developers has strongly criticised a £30 million "compromise" plan to redevelop Sydney Cove.

AT a private meeting last week the developers described the plan as "mundane, unimaginative, shabby and fifth rate."

The plan envisages the overall development of the area bounded by Alfred, Phillip, Bridge and Pitt Streets.

It was drawn up after discussions between the City Council's Planning Officer (Mr. McK. McLachlan) and the Professor of Town and Country Planning at Sydney University (Professor Denis Winston).

Five companies

The developers who have criticised the plan represent the Sydney Cove Area Development Committee, formed by five of Australia's biggest private private companies in March last year.

The companies are the AMP Society, British Tobacco Company (Aust.)
Ltd., Imperial Chemical Industries, Lend Lease Corporation Ltd., and Unilever (Aust.) Pty. Ltd.

The SCADC submitted plans, and a £5000 model, for the redevelopment of the area last year.

The City Council, at the request of the Minister for Local Government (Mr.
Hills) then ordered Mr.
McLachlan to draw up another plan.

Labor aldermen subsequently described Mr. Mc-Lachlan's plan as "mundane" and "lacking any touch of genius."

The Council directed Mr.
McLachlan to consult Professor Winston and reach a compromise.
